RUSSIANS DRIVE OUT AUSTRIANS

Muscovites Capture Bridge Head After Six Months' Struggle

RETREAT ADMITTED

Evacuation Followed Renewal of Russ Artillery Fire in the Trenches Recently

Berlin, March 21—Austrian troops have evacuated theUscieczo bridgehead and trenches northwest, after defending the positions for six months against Russian attacks, the Austrian war office admits.

The position has been battered into a heap of ruins by heavy pounding of Russian artillery in recent fighting.

The bridgehead position lies on the south bank of the Dniester, thirty-eight miles norwest of Czernowitz, and has been the scene of desperate fighting.

"The Russians, in the morning, had succeeded in blasting a breach 300 yards wide," said the Austrian war office statement.

"Nevertheless, our soldiers, though attacked by eight-fold superior forces still held their positions, in spite of all losses during seven hours of the most violent infantry and artillery fire.

"At 5 p. m. Colonel Planck decided to evacuate. He totally destroyed the trench position Small detachments, with wounded gained the south bank o fthe Dniester in boats but soon the concentrated fire of the enemy made it imposaible to cross the river.

"The Austrians sappers and dragons, not wanting to surrender, had no chance but to fight their way on the north bank of the Dniester through the town of Uscieszva, which was strongly occupied by the Russians, and joined the Austrian troops established on the heights north of Zaleyczyki.

"The march through the enemy's position succeeded. Under cover of night Colonel Planck led his troops to the Austrian vanguards northwest of Zaleyczzki where they arrived on Monday morning."

PLEA FOR MURDERERS

Governor of North Carolina Besieged by Women's Clubs

Raleigh, N. C., March 21—Formal petitions to commute to life imprisonment the death sentence imposed upon Mrs. Ida Ball Warren and Samuel Preston Christy for the murder in Winston-Salem in 1914 of R. J. Warren, the woman's husband, have been presented to Governor Craig.

Mrs. Warren is the first woman ever sentenced to death by electrocution in this state and because of her sex women's clubs, other organizations and individuals throughout the country, have flooded the governor's office with petitions for clemency in her behalf.

Governor Craig, who is expected to render his decision before the end of the week, has declared he will consider the cases on their merits and ignore all other influences that might be brought to bear. Mrs. Warren and Christy are sentenced to be executed March 31.

After the conviction of the couple an appeal was taken to the State Supreme Court on the ground that the prisoners' right under the fifth amendment to the constitution of the United States had been abridged in that their confessions admitted at the trial had been obtained under duress The Supreme Court affirmed the decision of the lower court and Mrs. Warren and Christy were sentenced to be executed on March 31. An appeal later to Chief Justice Clark of the State Supreme Court, for a writ of error in order that the case might be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States was denied. A similar appeal to Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court of the United States also was denied. The governor last month granted the prisoners a respite to March 31 in order that counsel might prepare petitions for executive clemency.

IS PEACE IN SIGHT?

Cablegram Received in Galveston From London Causes Flutter

Galveston, Tex. March 21—"Immediate peace is in sight" is one sentence in a cablegram received yesterday from London by a Galveston shipping firm, cancelling arrangements made for chartering a considerable amount of tonnage. It is understood that negotiations for chartering a number of small vessels for the handling of lumber had been practically closed when the cablegram came cancelling the agreement.

The firms involved in the transaction are of high standing. The person giving out the cablegram declined to give the names of the concerns for publication. Well informed circles here say there is no reason to doubt the sincerity of the London firm in the belief regarding peace

New York, March 21—Shipping men evidence a lively interest in reports from Galveston that tonnage arrangements had been canceled there by the receipt of a cable dispatch from a prominent London chartering firm which gave as its reason that "immediate peace is in sight in Europe."

Members of large shipping firms here said, however, that no word of a confirmatory character had been received in New York, and that no cancellations had been made here.

Washington March, 21—Nothing is known here about the latest peace reports, and official Washington is inclined to believe they are simply an aftermath to the statement made by Alexandre Ribot, minister of finance on Saturday in the French chamber of deputies that "the end of the war is at last in sight."

A press report from Galveston, Tex. stating that a Galveston shipping firm had received word from London that "immediate peace was in sight" defied explanation either at the White House or at the State Department.

ROUMANIA AND THE WAR

Believed Country is about to Abandon Her Neutrality

Athens, March 21—The impression prevails in high political circles at Athens that Roumania shortly will abandon her policy of neutrality in favor of the entente allies.

Should Roumania enter the war Greek officials would be placed in an embarrassing position, the force of which already is felt. Military representatives of the entente allies do not disguise the fact that at present they have no need for Greece and do not desire to assume responsibility for maintenance and equipment of the Greek army unless they are assured definitely of co-operation in the event of an allied offensive in Macedonia.

The course of the fighting at Verdun has produced a marked impression on even the most determined non-interventionists, and the royal press is changing its tone in regard to the participation of Greece in the war. The feeling of allied diplomatists seem to be that if Greece desires to enter the war now she will have to do so on her own initiative, and with no conditions with respect to territorial compensation.

BATTLE WITH LIQUID FIRE

Germans Lose Heavily West of Meuse, is Report From Paris

MAKE LITTLE GAINS

Both Armies Practically Deadlocked in Mighty Struggle Now in Progress in the West

Paris, March 21—Another powerful German attack, this time between Avocourt and Malancourt, west of the Meuse, resulted yesterday in heavy losses to the Germans, according to the official communication issued by the French War Office last night.

A fresh division brought up from a distant point was used in this operation, which was characterized by the employment of jets of liquid flame, At one point, east of the Malancourt wood, the Germans made some slight progress.

The text of the statement follows:

"In the Argonne our artillery destroyed German trenches to the north east of Four de Paris and Haute Chevauchee. The shelling of German works was followed by the emission of considerable sulphurous vapors, indicating that reservoirs were destroyed by our shells.

"We energetically bombarded the sector of Avocourt-Malanqourt and disposed of groups of the enemy reported assembling to the north of the Montfaucon wood.

"West of the Meuse the Germans in the course of the day after an intense bombardment with shells of large calibre made an attempt to enlarge their front. An attack by a fresh enemy division recently brought up from a point remote from the front was directed at great violence and attended by the use of jets of liquor flame, against our positions between Avocourt and Malancourt.

"Our barrier fire and the fire of our machine guns and infantry inflicted heavy losses on the enemy and broke down the efforts of the assailants who were able to make only slight progress at a point in the eastern port of the Malancourt wood.

"A violent bombardment also occurred at Hill 304 and in the region of the Bois Bourrus.

"East of the Meuse and in the Woevre artillery activity has been intermittent.

"Last night our bombing aeroplanes dropped 25 shells on the railway station at Dun-Sur-Meu where important movements of troops had been reported. All the projectiles reached the objects aimed at.

"Yesterday morning one of our pursuit aeroplanes brought down in the region of Verdun an enemy machine, which fell inside our lines."

Berlin, March 21—An attack made by French troops on the village of Vaux, northeast of Verdun, was repulsed with heavy losses, the War Office announced yesterday.

The violent attacks of the Russians in the Lake region on the northern part of the eastern front were continued. The Russians charged repeatedly with strong forces, but were beaten back with huge losses. The official statement follows:

"Western front—Favored by good conditions for observation there was very pronounced activity on the part of artillery and aeroplanes on both sides. In the Meuse sector and in the plain of the Woevre artillery engagements continue to be especially violent Sunday.

"To prevent us from pushing our lines father forward toward the defensive positions of the enemy in the neighborhood of Fort Douaumont and the village of Vaux ,the French delivered a fruitless attack with parts of a division recently brought up against the village of Vaux. They were repulsed with heavy losses.

"In an aerial battle Lieut. Baron von Althaus brought down his fourth aeroplane over enemy lines west of Lihons, while Lieutenant Boelke brought down his twelfth machine over the forest of Forges. The enemy lost three other aeroplanes, one in an aerial encounter near Cuisy, west of the forest of Forges, and two other from the fire of our artillery guns. One of the latter crashed to the earth in flames near Rheims; the other, turning over repeatedly, fell in the neighborhood of Sapt de Bards behind the enemy's lines."

RISE OF WILLIAMSBURG.

Steel Plant Will be Erected Just Across Creek from Proposed Du Pont Factory.

Williamsburg, Va., March 21. — Reports are rife that a big steel plant will locate just across Queen's Creek from the new Du Pont Plant, options having been placed on a great deal of real estate at the point mentioned. Several of these options have been closed by purchase.

The second big section of real estate took place yesterday in the sub-division known as "Capital Heights." About 100 lots were sold, prices ranging from $60 to $410. Early morning trains brought in a large crowd from all the nearby cities including Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News, Petersburg, and Hopewell The cold weather kept the size of the crowd down, but bidding was spirited, and everything was sold shortly after noon. Other subdivisions soon to go on the market are "East Williamsburg," Business Annex," Magruder Terrace," "Coke Division" "Delta Park," and "Delta Place." Morton G. Thalhimer & Co., will put on their first auction sale of lots on March 28. Much property is being sold quietly, and if the same rate continues there will not be much left for auction sales.

Real estate men and investors are enthusiastic over the outlook for property in and near Williamsburg. It is generally conceded that this city will be the center of all activities for months to come. The fact that the Du Pont terminal will be at Williamsburg instead of at a point a mile or two to the eastward, assures this city the cream of the business for a long time.

ALEXANDRIANS ATTEND.

More than Fifty at Ceremonial Session of Almas Temple.

More than 50 Alexandrians attended the ceremonial session of Almas Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at the National Theatre in Washington last night.

Potentate Estes received the unstinted applause and congratulations of the entire membership of Almas Temple for the wonderful new life he has put into Washington shrinedom. With the generous asistance of two committees—the "bears" and the "bulls"—Potentate Estes presented to the nobility of Almas Temple, 102 candidates who were taken with the caravan on its very special journey across the hot sands of mecca.

It was stated by some who spoke with authority that the stunts and tests for the candidates were the most original ever introduced in a ceremonial, and that the ritualistic part of the ceremonial was beyond words for real dramatic worth. Following the ceremonial the vast assemblage of Shriners witnessed a high-class vaudeville program given by the best talent from the present caste of the local theaters.

CAN PAY TAXES WITH COUPONS

Large Sum of Money Due State of Virginia Will Be Collected

AN ECHO OF THE PAST

Judgment Outstanding Against Real Estate—Auditor Moore Told to Force Payments.

Richmond, March 21—There is due the State of Virginia some $40,000 which has been hanging back for many, many years—away back when the use of coupons—the "cut worms of the treasury"—were used by certain shrewd financiers to pay the taxes they owed the State.

The coupons were taken from the old State bonds, the State being unable to pay the interest on the same, and they were tendered for the taxes. The State finally got through a bill which put an end to this practice, so that coupons were not recognized.

However, during the litigation, the State forced all persons who had tendered the coupons to prove their genuineness. Then the State proceeded to get judgment against the persons who tendered the coupons. These judgments have never been satisfied.

The last session of the Legislature passed a law which provides for the employment by the Auditor of Public Accounts of a man to see to it that the judgment unpaid are settled in full. The State offers to go so far that the coupons will now be received in the payment of taxes—but they must be the identical coupons that the State rejected when first tendered.

One effect of this work will be to place clouds on the title of a vast amount of real estate, for where the same has been sold and the State has gotten judgment, even years and years back ,the real estate is liable for the taxes, unless it be shown that purchase has been made by innocent persons. The law requires the docketing of all judgment, and if this has been done by the court clerks the defense cannot set up the claim of innocent purchase.

Auditor Moore says he does not know just the amount of taxes due the State by reason of judgments which have been obtained. He was confident that it would reach $40,000 or more, and when the records are consulted it may be that much in excess of that sum is due.

Examiners of records will have a good deal to do under the provisions of this act, which will become a law at the expiration of ninety days. Titles to property may be upset and there may be some who will have to pay to clear titles.

ATTACKED BY ASSASSIN

Premier of Bulgaria Has Narrow Escape From Bullet

London, March 21—Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria was attacked by a would-be assassin while riding in an open carriage in the streets of Sofia Sunday, according to dispatches from both Rome and Paris this afternoon.

A postal employe named Ivanoff fired two shots at Radoslavoff, it was stated. The first bullet went wild. The second wounded the prime minister's coachman. Before Ivanoff could fire again a student sprang upon him and disarmed him. The premier escaped unhurt.

The Bulgarian premier is one of the dominating figures in Balkan politics.

Rome dispatches four days ago reported that a number of bombs were found under the Bulgarian royal palace at Sofia and that several arrests were made. It was rumored in foreign capitals that an attempt was made on the life of Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria two weeks ago.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Former Sweetheart Wanted Bride to Elope With Him

Butler, Pa., March 21—Because his former sweetheart, a bride of two weeks, refused to elope, Alexander Toth a tailor, employed in Pittsburgh, shot and killed Stephen Peters, her father-in-law, and Julius Peters, her husband; seriously wounded the bride and committed suicide in the home of Stephen Peters a farmer, near Petersville, Sunday.

Mrs. Theresa Peters, wife of Julius, has bullet wounds in the arms and head. Her condition is critical. News of the tragedy spread when Mrs. Peters, bleeding ran two miles without shoes through snow to the farm of Casper Fehl,where she fell unconscious after telling Fehl, "He killed my father-in-law and husband"

On Sunday afternoon Toth appeared at the Peters home. The young woman and her father-in-law were in the kitchen. Julius Peters was sleeping in an adjoining room having been employed at night. Toth greeted the two in the kitchen and after chatting a while called Mrs. Peters to his side Toth asked her if she would leave her husband and go with him. Mrs. Peters walked away intending to call her husband.

Stephen Peters ordered Toth to leave. As Toth arose from his chair he drew a revolver and shot Peters dead. Mrs. Peters ran tc her husband room where Toth shot the young man as he lay in bed, fired three bullets at Mrs. Peters and then sent one into his own head.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Billy Klein and His Baby Dolls Make Distinct Hit

With the rise of the curtain last night at the New Opera House Billy Klein, the popular comedian, and Bob Nugent, the funny Dutchman kept the large and enthusiastic audience in a continuous uproar of laughter from start to finish. Coupled with the clean and excellent comedy the chorus is clever, well costumed and are good and the attraction one of the best in Musical Tabloid. The great hit with the show is the Greater City Four a quartette of comedy and harmony singers which, in it self is worth the price of admission.

The impersonation of John Philip Sousa by Mr. Klein and the "German" band are exceptionally clever. As an extra added attraction on Thursday night there will be four big vaudeville acts in conjunction with the regular show which will be a rare treat to the patrons.

The feature picture for tonight will be Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Drew in a five reel drama entitled "Playing Dead". There will also be a complete change of program tomorrow night when the feature photo-play will be a big 5 reel mystery drama of the Selig company entitled "The Circular Staircase" introducing Stella Rozetto and Guy Oliver.

Walter DeAtley saloonkeepers, who were given jail sentences and ordered to pay fines following their conviction on the charge of violating the liquor laws at Colonial Beach, Westmoreland county. The arrest and conviction of the two saloonkeepers followed a vigorous campaign against irregularities at Colonial Beach, conducted by Attorney-General Pollard, at the Governor's direction. Costenbader was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail and pay a fine of $150, while DeAtley was given a twenty-day jail sentence and ordered to pay a fine of $50.

SLAYER OF ALLEN LODGED IN JAIL

Will McGraw, Who Killed The Clansman is Taken to Roanoke

WILL BE KEPT THERE

Sheriff Refuses to Comment on Report of High Feeling in Carroll County at Present.

Roanoke, Va., March 21—Will McGraw, alleged blockader, who shot and killed Jasper Allen, last of the Carroll County clansmen, near Mount Airy, N. C., on Saturday, was brought here yesterday from Galax, Va., by Sheriff Edwards, of Carroll County. Because of alleged hostility on the part of some of Allen's friends, the sheriff had taken his prisoner from Hillsville to Galax on horseback, over a tortuous mountain road. McGraw, who surrendered to the sheriff, will be held here pending his hearing in April at Hillsville. He has announced that he will plead self-defense.

The trouble with Allen occurred early Saturday morning at a road house five miles from Mt. Airy, on the Virginia-North Carolina line. McGraw used a .38-caliber revolver, shooting the clansman once in the hip, and killing him with a bullet through the brain. McGraw received a deep cut on the head in a fist fight which preceded the shooting.

When he had killed Allen, McGraw went to his home in Carroll County and informed his family. A conference between members of his household resulted in the decision to surrender and enter a plea of self-defense. A member of the family telephoned the sheriff at Hillsville early Sunday morning and the latter immediately went to the home and took McGraw in custody.

In reply to questions, McGraw said: "I had to do what I did."

Asked about a report that feeling is running high in Carroll County. Sheriff Edwards refused to make a statement further than to say, "I can't talk."

The trouble between Allen and McGraw was brought on by the alleged statement from McGraw that Wesley Edwards, Allen's nephew, who is now serving a twenty-seven-year term in the Virginia Penitentiary, "does not have the nerve people credit him with."

This was resented by Allen, who, according to eye witnesses, retorted, "Wesley is not here to defend himself, so I will do so," and a duel followed which resulted fatally for Allen.

Allen was buried yesterday afternoon in the family burial ground beside Floyd and Claud Allen, who died in the electric chair three years ago for their participation in the Hillsville tragedy in which Judge Thornton H. Massie and several court officers and jurors were killed.

Sheriff Edwards who is twenty-four years old, is a first cousin of Wesley Edwards. He is the youngest sheriff Carroll County has ever had.

NEARBY WHITE HOUSE

President Wilson May Make Woodlawn, Near Alexandria, Next Summer's Home

Woodlawn Mansion, the home of Nellie Custis Lewis, in the historic Mount Vernon district of Fairfax county, will it is said, be the "summer Capital." President Wilson and his wife have made several trips to the Woodlawn neighborhood in the past few weeks, and it is reported that they motored there three days in succession last week.

Woodlawn is located about 16 miles south of Washington, and about half that distance from Alexandria, and there are splendid roads for motoring between the two points.

The Mexican situation and necessity for frequent conferences with his advisers over European war problems that confront him, give color to the gossip that the President may find it advisable to spend the summer nearer Washington than the summer home recently selected in New Jersey, and it is possible that Virginia may wrest that distinction from the Northern State.

Woodlawn Mansion was erected in 1805 by Maj. Lawrence Lewis and his wife, Nellis Custis Lewis, and is considered the statellest of all of the manor houses of the upper Potomac.

The property is now owned by Miss E. M. Sharpe, who spends much of her time with relatives in Pennsylvania, where she is said to be visiting at this time. A former owner is Paul Kester, the playwright, who now owns and occupies Belmont, a fine old mansion, on the hills overlooking the Potomac a short distance north of Alexandria. Both Mr. Kester and Miss Sharpe are said to have spent large sums in improvements at Woodlawn.

NEW CRISIS IN ENGLAND

Grievances of Married Men Over Conscription Act.

London, March 21—The problem of the married men is rapidly bringing the Asquith government face to face with a new crisis. The grievances of the married men center around the injustice of the military service act in not impartially conscripting all men of military age.

Owing to the wholesale exemptions, chiefly those who, to quote the words of the Earl of Derby, are "hiding in the munition works," married men have been called long before they or the war office expected would be the case.

The married men demand three things: First that all available single men be called immediately; second that the military service act be extended to all men of military age whether married or single, and third, that the government shall declare a moratorium in favor of attested married men before they are mobilized.

The most important demand is that every possible single man be released from reserved occupations, which will mean general conscription.

There is an increasing section in the house of commons composed of extreme unionists and liberals, who are coming out flatly in favor of compulsion for all married men of military age.

The majority of the members of the Asquith cabinet are opposed to general conscription. Therefore, it is evident that if the "general compulsionists" in commons decide to fight the question, there is danger of a cabinet collapse.

Premier Asquith who has been mysteriously confined to his home for a week past, is facing a more serious crisis than resulted over the original conscription measure.

FISHING SEASON NEAR

General Belief That There Will Be a Good Catch of Shad and Herring This Spring

As soon as war weather comes—and the fishermen are expecting it to come within the next day or two—shad and herring should begin to appear in the bay in good numbers. Within a week or ten days of their appearance in the bay they will be in the Potomac river, and the fishermen figure the spring fishing season should open early in April. The outlook for a good supply of Potomac-caught fish this year is said to be exceptionally good.

The regulations of the United States engineer office keeping the bay nets out of the deep water channel will allow the fish to come up the river, and while a small proportions of them will be caught by the haul seines and drift nets, the bulk of them will be able to reach the spawning grounds in the fresh water about this city.

The portion that will be caught is expected to amply supply this market with all shad and herring it will need. As yet the bulk of the shad and herring offered for sale in this market are coming from North Carolina waters. The fish are slowly working their way toward the bay, and will come into the waterway as soon as the weather warms up.

It is stated that preparations will shortly be made to start seine hauling at Fairy landing and the smaller haul seine shores.

BURNING OF DWELLING

Last House in Square East of Windmill Hill Destroyed at an Early Hour Last Night

Between seven and eight o'clock last night the southeastern heavens were suddenly illumined by the burning of a frame house in the square bounded by Lee, Union, Wilkes and Gibbon streets. The wind being from the southeast, sparks were sent flying through the air in a northwesterly direction, and some anxiety was for a time caused in the neighborhood. The house was situated directly under Windmill Hill, and was the last of a number of small dwellings which during the past fifty or more years had been situated in that square. The conflagration was allowed to burn itself out, and the fire department did not come to the scene.

Half a dozen of what are believed to have been incendiary fires have occurred in that "bottom" during the past two years. Generally the houses were unoccupied but the building burned last night had been used as a dwelling by a white man named Jack Hall. The latter believes the house was set on fire while he was on his way to a pump half a square away. Up to a short time ago it was occupied by a colored family, who became apprehensive when they realized that their homes was the only building which had escaped incendiaries, and they secured a house in another neighborhood. As stated, this was the only house remaining in what had been a thriving settlement. While the civil war was in progress many negroes refugeed to Alexandria. The government provided quarters for most of them while others saved money and built themselves humble homes in different sections of the city. The eastern part of the square under Windmill Hill was formerly swampy, and this place was selected by a number of negro squatters. There were almost as many houses in that locality at the close of the war as there are in Rosemont at present. There was also a church under the hill. In 1873 the Southern Railway Company constructed a ferry slip at the foot of Wilkes street, and the company owning the northern half of the square, ordered the squatters to move their houses, A few homes still remained on the south side of the area, but they have one by one been obliterated by fires. The destruction of the lone structure last night makes the square more barren than it was over half century ago as in ante bellum days there was a brick house in the square.

A number of attractive games were played, and vocal and instrumental selections and readings rendered, after which dainty refreshments were served. VIRGINIA NEWS

J. Courtney Boyless, 51 years old, for many years prominent in business in Bristol, committed suicide yesterday in a sanatorium at Radford, where he had been taken recently for mental treatment.

An automobile party, composed of J. F. Butler, Jr., Jesse Ratliff Thompson, Bess McCorkle and Virginia Beverley, of Big Stone Gap, met with a very serious accident on their return home in Turkey Cove, fifteen miles east of Jonesville, when Mr. Butler lost control of his car and ran into a bank, hurling all the occupants from the machine, which resulted in every one being injured, Miss Thompson perhaps fatally.

Over 1,000 conversions and accessions to the Richmond churches were reported by the ministers at yesterday morning's meeting of the Ministerial Union of that city as the result of the first week of the great evangelistic campaign in progress.

Mrs. Mary A. Smith, widow of Edward A. Smith, of Arpola, Va., died Sunday night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs N. R. Anderson in Washington, after a brief illness. Mrs Smith was 75 years old and a native of Virginia.

Ralph Furrow was assaulted by an unknown negro Sunday evening near the summit about one mile east of Christiansburg, rendered unconscious by a blow from a club and robbed of $18 in money, his watch and shoes. Furrow was approached by the negro, who asked for a match and when he put his hand in his pocket was struck. He was found by railway employees.

Voting by registered mail a device already adopted by a large number of American Commonwealths, yesterday received the approval of Governor Stuart, who affixed his signature to the Hobson bill providing for the introduction of this practice in Virginia. The act provides for the most radical amendment of the electoral system that has been authorized by the General Assembly since the adoption of the present Constitution.

Fanned by a high wind, a fire which originated in a hotel in Portsmouth Sunday morning, swept through that structure and spread to frame dwellings nearby, consuming them. Residents in the fire zone, realizing that the wind might send the blaze sweeping the whole of the residential section, lost no time in vacating their homes, moving all effects out into the streets, which was littered with a jumbled collection of beds, pianos, dressers ,stoves and countless other furnishings. Determined work on the part of the firemen ,aided by marines from the United States naval magazine on St. Juliens creek, stopped the progress of the flames. It is roughly estimated that the loss will probably be between $20,000 and $25,000.

F. G. Seymour, white, employed at Thomas' saw mill near Sutherland, was held up by two white highwaymen on the Woodpecker Road, Chesterfield county, Saturday night robbed and probably fatally wounded by his assailants. He was attacked by the two men, felled to the ground and robbed of about $20 in money, his overcoat, coat and hat. He was struck two severe blows, one on the head, which probably fractured the skull, and another on the chin and left lying beside the road, where he was found the next morning.

The unveiling of the tablet to the memory of Rev. Father Edward J. Walsh, at the Young Men's Association Home, in Norfolk, yesterday afternoon, was an occasion of great interest, and there was a large attendance of his friends, by whom he was greatly esteemed as the founder of this association and for his worth as a man and as associate pastor of St. Mary's Cathoic Church, of Norfolk. The opening religious ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Father John J. Doherty.

Two new large dry docks for the Norfolk navy yard—that was the recommendation made Saturday to the House Committee on Naval Affairs by Capt. Josiah S. McKean assistant chief of naval operations.

In the matter, of a Democratic appointee for the postmastership of Bristol, the administration seems up against a "nut" that is not crackable, Although the term of A. J. Roller, Republican, expired last June, he is still on the job, and in spite of the fact that local Democrats have agitated repeatedly the matter of a Democratic postmaster. Under the terms of the patronage agreement between Senator Lea and Senator Shields, of Tennessee, Bristol is in the latter's patronage territory. Senator Shields has recommended N. D. Buchanan, a Confederate veteran, but Postmaster-General Burleson it is said has steadfastly declined to allow Buchman to "pass muster." In Bristol, Va., where the political situation was different, a Democrat was appointed postmaster many months ago, E. S. Kendrick being the postmaster.

Frank Epperson, a 17 year old negro, was found murdered early yesterday in a wheat field, within sight of the Chatham Road, near Danville with two pistol bullets in his body and his throat cut. Eight suspects have been lodged in jail. The police believe that robbery was the motive of the crime, the negro, after leaving church on Sunday evening, being waylaid, slain and robbed of $22 he is known to have had on his person.

THE GREAT KIDNEY MEDICINE FULFILLS ITS MISSION

I was afflicted with Bladder trouble. I suffered such great pain that the doctor had to take my urine. After the doctor had treated me for two weeks, I did not get any better. Remembering that a few doses of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root completely relieved my Mother-in-law, after all the doctors who were called on her case had failed to do her any good, I asked my husband to get me a bottle of Swamp-Root, which he did, and I took it and threw the doctors, preparations away, because immediately after I started taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I was greatly relieved. My husband was so pleased he said I should take one dozen bottles of Swamp-Root, but by the time I had taken seven bottles I was completely restored to health. That was six years ago and I have not taken any medicine since. My weight is 195 pounds, have three children, do my own work in a house of twelve rooms, and keep boarders. Very truly yours

A Great National Public Utility

That concerns all merchants and all people

THE original Cash Register rang a bell, indicated and recorded the amount of the purchase. It benefited the merchant only.

In a third of a century this old model has developed into a Cash Register that directly benefits every man, woman and child who spends money in a store.

This new Cash Register equally concerns every merchant and clerk, every banker and wholesaler in this land.

It furnishes every customer with a receipt or sales slip.

It prints on this the amount paid or charged.

On this is also printed the date of the sale and who made it.

It forces a duplicate, printed record for the merchant.

It prevents disputes over charges and bills paid.

It saves shoppers' time.

It gives the merchant all his profits. It gives him more money for his family.

It promotes more and quicker sales.

It protects each clerk against making errors and against the mistakes of others.

It rewards the diligent clerk by telling his employer which one makes the largest number of sales and which one gets the greatest amount of business.

It assures the banker additional security for the money he loans the merchant.

It gives the wholesaler additional assurance that the merchant will have money to pay his bills.

It furnishes the banker and the wholesaler mechanical evidence that the merchant's statement of his business is correct.

It is a business necessity.

THE FREDERICK, MD., TRAGEDY.

The general verdict we have no doubt, will entirely agree with that of the coroner's jury at Frederick, Md., which exonerated and held wholly blameless the unhappy wife and mother who, in a moment of desperation, shot down her husband near that city a few days ago. The distressed widow attended the funeral yesterday and wept bitterly as the body of her former husband was being lowered into the grave. She had the sympathy of all present.

It is at first sight difficult to understand how a man like Arthur English educated, cultivated, supposedly refined, could be capable of such persistent and systematic brutality toward such a wife. A drunken, ignorant day laborer could not have shown himself more debased or more fiendish.

But no amount of culture gives a man a heart or keeps him from being a coward and a bully. Many a man has a devil, but it the devil of a bad temper and of a tyrannical disposition which he has never tried to overcome and which makes him almost a fiend incarnate in his own home. Men of that kind have no right to marry; and if they do marry and fail to behave themselves a cotemporary suggests that they ought to be put in a pillory, where everybody could throw mud and bad eggs at them.

The great majority of husbands, however, though not exactly angels, are, generally speaking, not bad fellows to live with. Many of them are sometimes cross and unreasonable, but most of them trot along with great docility in double harness. The wife is not always perfect herself, and not infrequently she adds to her domestic infelicities by feminine perversities that it requires a philosopher or a hero to stand calmly. Nevertheless, as a rule, the wife has far more to bear from the husband than the husband from the wife; and to all who fail to curb their irritability and proneness to passion the lamentable affair in Frederick points a personal moral. Not that wives should protect themselves with pistols. The Frederick tragedy was an extreme case and one of self-preservation from a wild beast. But the man who refuses to control himself in his home must expect something worse than lead—the infinite contempt of everybody who knows him.

The following shows how some men regard their wives:

Using a beer bottle as a club, Gustav Hildenberger, 40 years old, dangerously wounded his wife, Mrs. Anna Hildenberger, in their home in Baltimore, yesterday, when he struck her on the head, cutting a long gash in her scalp. The beer bottle was shattered against the woman's skull. Hildenberger had been drinking and he had invited several men to the house. One of the men told Hildenberger that he could beat his wife like the men do their wives in Russia when he hurled the bottle at the woman.

PASSING OF VON TIRPITZ.

The papers generally seem to regard the retirement of von Tirpitz as likely to result in far less friction with this country in matters concerning the sea activities of Germany. It is suggested that the resignation of Grand Admiral von Tirpitz is a decisive political victory for the German Imperial Chancellor and the Foreign Secretary. It is likewise a new assurance of peace between Germany and the United States.

Tirpitz has been the leader of the anti-American party in German politics. This party has been aggressively in favor of war with the United States rather than restrict the use of submarines to the limitations of international law.

Twice the Tirpitz party brought Germany and the United States to the verge of war. but the Kaiser's support of Bethmann-Hollweg and Herr von Jagow made is possible to maintain peace.

The resignation of Tirpitz shows plainly enough where the Kaiser stands on the issue. He is with the Chancellor and the Foreign Secretary in preferring friendly relations with the United States. It may be extravagent to think that the crisis has passed with the passing of the Grand Admiral, but it is safe to say that there is probably less danger now of a break with Germany than at any other time since the sinking of the Lusitania.

Admiral von Tirpitz has become a physical and mental wreck by brooding over the deaths of scores of his closest friends in the Germany navy, according to reports in general circulation in diplomatic and military circles in Lucerne and Berne.

Von Tirpitz is said to resemble in sensitiveness the great Japanese military leader Nogo, who, overwhelmed by the memory of vast losses of Japanese soldiers he sent against Port Arthur, including two of his sons, committed suicide upon the death of the late Japanese Emperor.

Von Tirpitz has died a thousand deaths since the war began. He has bade farewell to hundreds of splendid young submarine officers, who went out to perish miserably under the water. The code among German submariners reqpires that they shoot themselves when the situation of their boat becomes hopeless.

It is known beyond a doubt that Von Tirpitz felt himself living in a world of horrors. Even the Kaiser himself was unable to calm his self-reproach.

German military men say the Lusitania incident was the beginning of von Tirpitz's breakdown. He did not visit the admiralty office for three days after the liner and its helpless human cargo went down. Each new sinking of a passenger boat only increased his depression.

The strain became too much and his collapse followed.

ANOTHER GIRONDIST.

Even Dr. Thomas Semmes, as pure and high a soul as lives, cannot escape calumny. He is rebuked in the Richmond Virginian at some length by that most eminent, energetic and elevated of moralists and most copious producer of prohibition literature, Mr. W. M. Bickers. Dr. Semmes' offense is that he holds to the pernicious and degrading habit, which some very respectable denominations believe was originated by the Great Founder of Christianity, of using fermented wine for Holy Communion.

Dr. Semmes, who is an honored clergyman, of the Episcopal church, will learn, after a while, a very old lesson. It is that those who embark with fanatics and extremists must be prepared to go to the final limit, to accept and swollow any fantastic demand that wild zeal may dream, on pain of accusation of heresy and treason. This has been the experience of humanity through all the long course of history. Men engaging in revolutionary movements and undertaking to be moderate, sensible and reasonable always fall under bitter condemnation by their more violent associates. It was not so long ago that even the Rev. R. H. Pitt was pilloried as having gone over to the whiskeyites because he declined to vote for the Hon. William Hodges Mann for Governor. It was but recently that by a faithful process of purging and modification he has been admitted back into the fold. If Dr. Semmes wishes to keep in favor with the present rulers of Virginia he must abjure all beliefs and opinions differing from theirs by so much as a hair's breadth. He must confide his soul, his conscience and his vote to the direction of Brother Bickers, Brother Cannon and the rest of them. Freedom of belief, thought and action is not included in their constitution and by-laws, which consist of the two words, "Follow and obey."

NEWS OF THE DAY

Jess Jones, colored, was lynched near Cedar Bluff, Miss., early yesterday. He was accused of attempting to attack a 14 year old white girl.

King Manuel, deposed King of Portugal, has telegraphed from Madrid, to Lisbon offering his services to Portugal. He said in his dispatch: "My only thoughts are for the welfare of my country"

Four midshipmen were ordered dismissed from the Annapolis academy yesterday for intoxication and misconduct in shielding intoxicated fellow-students from detection. Secretary Daniels declined to divulge the names.

The European war has taken from the seas more than 2,000 merchant vessels of nearly 4,000 tonnage, according to figures published by the Department of Commerce, Germany, with 600 vessels sunk, captured or detained, heads the list of losers.

Arthur English, the New York lawyer, who was shot and killed by his wife, Mrs. Eloise Young English on Saturday at their mountain home near Frederick, Md., was buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery at that place yesterday. The widow was in a very nervous condition and wept bitterly at the grave. Mrs. English will probably return to the home in the Catoctin Mountains.

Compulsory econonmy for miners was put into effect in Berlin yesterday. It is decreed that not more than $4.50 shall be paid to minors out of their weekly salaries. One third of the balance may be drawn against but the remainder must be deposited to their credit in savings banks, there to stay until the end of the war. This decree, it was said, was made necessary by extravagence resulting from high wages.

The greatest council of war held since the mighty conflict in Europe began will take place in Paris this week. Six of the allied nations, England, Russia, France, Belgium, Italy and Serbia, will be represented. Plans of supreme importance, by which the allies hope to deliver a smashing stroke that will bring the end of the war in sight, will be considered.

Stephen W. Dorsey, former United States senator from Arkansas and of late years a capitalist of Los Angeles, Cal., died yesterday evening Mr. Dorsey was United States senator from Arkansas from 1873 to 1879, and for 40 years was heavily interested in mines in Colorado, Arizona and other parts of the Southwest.

Federal Judge Mayer of New York yesterday was granted $97,250 compensation for receivership services in connection with the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway from January 15 to date. Former Judge W. C. Noyes, the receiver and J. E. Rushmore, the receiver's attorney, were granted $42.000 each. R. T. Newcomb, assistant to Rushmore, was allotted $13,250.

Preparedness, so far as the army is concerned, received its death blow yesterday, according to so-called "big army" men, when the House rejected the Kann amendment to the Hay army bill. The amendment provided that maximum peace strength of the regular army should be raised to 220,000 men. The House voted 183 to 103 against it, leaving the maximum peace strength of the army in the Hay bill at 140,000.

Four babies were burned to death yesterday in a fire in a day nursey at 47 East One Hundred and Thirty third street, New York. Six families were forced to flee the building, several persons having narrow escapes from death. The nursery was used by negro families living in the neighborhood.

Six students of the Riverside Military Academy have been arrested on the charge of burning the dormitory at Gainesville, Ga., Sunday night. The police say the students have admitted in a signed statement that they set fire to the building as a means of obtaining a coveted vacation. The building was destroyed. All except one of the six students were released on their own recognizance, the other being liberated on bond.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE

Will Issue Call for State Convention to Name Delegates to the National Body

Richmond March 21—Finding it practically impossible to comply with the order of the last Democratic convention at Baltimore, that delegates and alternates to the national meetings thereafter shall be selected through a party primary, the State Democratic Committee, which meets at Murphy's Hotel tomorrow night, will issue a call for a convention to perform this and other party functions.

The troubling plank in the Baltimore convention's platform received serious attention at the hands of State Chairman Ellyson, who issued a statement last December, a few weeks before the convening of the Legislature, in which he recommended that the General Assembly, at its coming session, make provision for a special primary to elect a national committeeman from this State and the twenty-four delegates and delegates-at-large.

The recommendation was entirely ignored by the General Assembly and adjournment found no enactment looking to a compliance with the Baltimore convention's specific provision. With no machinery for a legalized primary available for use between now and the time for the St. Louis convention, on June 14, and no funds in sight with which to hold a strictly party primary the committee will resort to the convention system of selecting delegates that has been followed in this State for a century.

SAND BEDS FOUND.

Gravel Supply Sufficient for Fifty Years Found in Potomac.

According to a statement made by an official of one of the sand and gravel dredging concerns, the sand companies now have no anxiety as to the future supply of the material. For several years past representatives of the companies have been prospecting along the river a few miles below this city for sand and gravel beds and recently supplies large enough to last 50 years were located. Deals for the sand rights on the beds now are in progress. Until they are closed the officials of the sand companies will not discuss the location of the beds.

Recently Louis Smoot started work on a new bed located on the Maryland side of the river, between River View and the mouth of Broad creek, and fine quality sand and gravel, it is stated, was brought to this city from these beds. For many years the bulk of the sand and gravel used in this city was obtained from beds along the Georgetown channel, but this supply was exhausted several years ago. The sand companies then had to look further down the river for a supply of the material.

SIXTH STREET LADY SAYS CONSTIPATION GONE APPETITE GOOD

Steamboat Man's Wife Loud in Praise of Dreco For What it Did For Her

The principal reason that the fame of Dreco has spread like wild fire in Washington is because everyone who has tested it, or has seen what it would do, has a good word for it and never misses a chance to speak of it. For instance, the signed statement recently received of Mrs. Daisy Jones of 429 Sixth street Northwest, Mrs. Jones' husband is a steamboat Pilot on the Potomac River and has been for a number of years and is widely known. She says, "I have received splendid results from your medicine Dreco in the treatment of a long standing case of constipation, liver and kidney troubles. I suffered awful pains in my back and limbs, was very nervous and at times had splitting headaches. My tongue was coated breath foul and bad taste in my mouth and my stomach would fill up with gas and my food seemed to sour. I am now on my second bottle of Dreco and the constipation is entirely relieved, pains all gone from my back and limbs, liver is acting well which of course eliminated the bad breath and coated tongue. My appetite is good and my food digests without forming gas anymore. I am feeling better generally, and gladly recommend Dreco to all persons suffering as I was." We can refer anyone to dozens of people right here in Washington who have used Dreco and gotten equally as good results as Mrs. Jones did. Dreco the great root and herb medicine is on sale at Allen's Drug Store Alexandria. Price $1.00 a bottle. Adv.

SITUATION IN CHINA.

Revolution in Yunnan and Kwansi of Serious Nature.

Shanghai, March 21.—The situation resulting from the revolution in the provinces of Yunnan and Kwansi is considered most serious. Rumors are in circulation that the provinces of Hunnan and Kiangsi will shortly join the rebels, while doubts are expressed as to the loyalty of Lungchi Kwang, governor of Kwantung, owing to the disappearance of his son, who was held as a hostage in Peking.

Former Premier Tang Shao Yi and Dr. Wu Ting deny that negotiations to effect a compromise of the situation are in progress between the inhabitants of Yunnan and President Yuan Shi Kai.

Tung-Hualung, recently minister of communications, and a brother of the governor of Yunnan, has telegraphed Yuan Shi Kai, declaring that the president has violated his oath to maintain the republic, and that, even if he has canceled his proposed return of the country to a monarchy, nobody will trust him. Therefore, he warns Yuan Shi Kai to plan his own safety in retirement.

Alexandria proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt.

Mrs. R. H. Dawson, 409 N. West St., Alexandria, says: "My back was so stiff and lame that I couldn't do anything without great suffering. When I got down, it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. Sharp twinges often caught me in the small of my back and hips and I couldn't move until they eased up. In the morning, my back ached so badly that I could hardly get out of bed. My kidneys were irregular in action and the kidney secretions caused me much misery. I felt all out of sorts and had no ambition to do anything. A neighbor advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at C. W. Summers' Drug Store. I never took another medicine that acted so quickly. One box put my kidneys in good working order and made my back strong."

FAMOUS BALLET RUSSE AT THE NATIONAL THEATRE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

No big attraction that has been announced for Washington has attracted so much attention as the famous Ballet Russe, now making its first tour of America under the auspices of the Metropolitan Opera Company. New York found in these new ballets by these marvellous Russian dancers, in the environment of the most realistic colorings of the leader of the new art Leon Bakst, and in the music of Europes most revolutionary of composers the real sensation of many seasons. America has never seen anything before to equal the wonderful timing and dancing of these Russians whose posing and rythm of movement to the most remarkable of musical compositions tells the story of the ballets in the most delightful and the most forceful dramatic way. The company of 250 people with an orchestra of 80 pieces is travelling on two special trains with many cars of gorgeous costumes and scenic effects. The engagement in Washington is limited to three performances which will be given at the National Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday night March 23, 24 and 25. Seats may be ordered by mail from T. Arthur Smith, 1306 G street, N. W. and should be accompanied by remittance. The repertoire arranged for this engagement is most attractive in that it brings the ballet in its most popular repertoire and those dances that draw the heaviest on the skill grace and charm of this remarkable set of men and women dancers brought together by M. de Diaghileff, No one who is interested in the progress of the dance and in the advanced art of the ballet and the new school of color expression as well as those who will be diverted by the most unusual performances ever given in this country, will miss this engagement which has been hailed everywhere as the greatest novelty Europe has ever sent to America.

The Washington repertoire is as follows:

Thursday night: "Cleopatre." "Le Spectre de la Rose", "Soleil de Nuit," "Carnaval."

Friday night: "Les Sylphides," "L'Apres Midi d'un Faune," "Le Prince Igor," "Scheherazade."

Saturday: "La Princesse Enchantee," "Cleopatre," "L'Apres Midi d'un Faune," "Carnaval."

MORE SHIPS SUNK.

Norwegian and Danish Vessels Among Those Sent to Bottom.

London, March 21.—The sinking of one French, two neutral and one British steamship, with the loss of several lives, was announced yesterday.

The Norwegian steamer Langelie, 974 tons, was sunk and her engineer was killed. Sixteen survivors were rescued.

The second neutral ship sunk was the Danish steamer Skodsborg, of 1,697 tons. Seventeen members of the crew were saved, three being lost.

The Skodsborg sailed from Norfolk on February 21 for Helsingborg, Sweden, and was last reported passed the Lizard on March 11. She was a steamer 270 feet long, built in Copenhagen in 1902 and owned in Copenhagen.

The British steamer was the Port Dalhousie. Her mate, pilot and five men were landed.

The remaining members of the crew are missing.

Fifty sailors landed at an east coast port this morning, according to the Central News, which says they are understood to be from Norwegian and Danish steamers torpedoed on the east coast last night.

The French steamer Nominoe, 3,155 tons, has been torpedoed and sunk. Its crew was landed tod · The Nominoe plied between the east coast of England and Rouen, France.

DUTCH TALKING OF WAR

Nation Inflamed Over Sinking of the Tubantia

The Hague, March 20—The press of the Netherlands, in discussing the sinking of the liner Tubantia, refers to the possibilities of war between Germany and Holland.

The Amsterdam Handelsblad, after discussing the uselessness of such a conflict and considering the many ties between the two countries, adds:

"Nevertheless, nothing would be more damaging to our independence and national existence than the conviction gaining ground that we are unprepared to shed our blood for the defence of our rights and independence."

The Hanlesblad does not believe however, it says, that Germany will withhold clear guarantees against a repetition of such an incident as that of the Tubantia and continues:

"If the attack was made against the orders of the German Admiralty we expect the submarine commander will get what a pirate deserves."

The Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant says:

"If the German Navy seeks a conflict with us, it should say so. The German Government is using the surest means of hurting our national feelings."

The Vaderland asks if the time has not come for America, Holland, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Sweden, Norway and Denmark, to take combined action, "as their interests coincide and there can be no doubt concerning their sentiments. The South American republics are interested," it continues "because the loss of the Tubantia deprives them of one of the few remaining links with Europe." The Vaderland believes that joint diplomatic pressure would convince Germany that the present method of submarine warfare must be abandoned."

Engineer de Groot, of the Tubantia, now makes the statement that an hour and a half after leaving the ship he saw a submarine of foreign build.

CROSSES SEA IN TRUNK.

German Engineer Discovered by English and Interned.

London, March 21.—After crossing the Atlantic from New York in his wife's trunk, Captain Roewer, a German engineer, was detected by the British at Kirkwall and interned, according to a story appearing in Danish newspapers and forwarded by Reuter's Copenhagen correspondent.

Capt. Rower, was an engineer at Kiaochow, China. He escaped after the capture of Kiaochow by the Japanese and made his way to New York whence he and his wife sailed for Copenhagen. To escape detection the captain arranged to cross the Atlantic in his wife's cabin trunk. He remained in the trunk during the daytime, breathing through a ventilator inserted over the nameplate and emerged from the trunk during the night.

None of the passengers suspected the ruse, although it was noticed that exceptionally large meals were sent to Frau Roewer's Cabin. At Kirkwall the captain left the trunk, fearing he would be detected when inspectors searched the luggage, and was caught in the packing room. He was interned, but his wife was permitted to proceed, reaching Copenhagen yesterday.

HOLLAND TALKING WAR.

Dutch Resent Sinking of Their Steamers by German Submarines.

London, March 21.—Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent sends the following comment from the Socialist newspaper, Het Volk, concerning the sinking of the Dutch vessels:

"It would be folly to deny that excitement among the people is increasing since the treacherous attack on the Palembang. It is a serious sign that the leading newspapers no longer suppress statements as to the possibility of war.

"Few here attach credence to the German official assurance that the steamer Tubantia was not torpedoed by a German submarine. Great Britain never thus far has torpedoed a neutral vessel, while Germany has done so countless times."

The correspondent adds that the Het Volk, however, deduces from the German communication denying that a German submarine was responsible for the sinking of the Tubantia, that Germany is not seeking war with Holland.

Amsterdam, March 21.—At the end of another indigant protest concerning the sinking of the Dutch liner Tubantia, the Handelsblad makes an appeal to President Wilson to take the interests of neutrals under the protection of the United States.

The newspaper also proposes that Germany should replace the Tubantia and the Palembang by vessels of the German merchant marine.

"The squadron torpedoboat Renaudin was sunk in the Adriatic by an enemy submarine on the morning of March 18. Three officers, among whom were the commandant and second officer and, 44 seamen were lost. Two officers and 34 seamen were rescued by a French torpedoboat, which accompaned the Renaudin."

BUTTER CARDS IN BERLIN.

Restrictions Also Placed on Distribution of Potatoes.

Berlin, March 21.—The new regulations in regard to distribution of butter and potatoes went into effect yesterday, and the people of Berlin are now able to purchase these supplies only on presentation of cards.

Each person will be permitted to purchase about five ounces of butter weekly and ten pounds of potatoes each 12 days.

It is understood this measure is a temporary one, to remain in force until the local shortage is remedied by better methods of distribution.

RAID KENTISH COAST

German Aeroplanes Drop 48 Bombs and Kill Nine Persons

London, March 20—Nine persons were killed and thirty-one injured yesterday in another German aeroplane raid on the Kentish coast. The raiders, four in number, dropped forty-eight bombs.

Dover and its harbor were shelled, the towns Deal and Margate were bombarded, and only prompt action by a British aviator warded off the attack on Westgate.

One German seaplane was pursued thirty miles to sea by a British aviator in one-seated machine, where he engaged the raider in an action which lasted for fifteen minutes. The raider was brought down and the observer killed.

RUSSIANS LOSE 9000

Make Unsuccessful Offensive West of Dvinsk

London, March 20—Nine thousand Russians were left lying on one section of the battlefield after an unsuccessful offensive against the Germans west of Dvinsk, according to a Berlin war office announcement.

The attacks were launched in the Lake district west of the Dvina. The heaviest fighting was around Lakes Drisviaty, Postawy and Naroez. It was at the latter point that 9,270 fallen Russians were counted after the attack had recoiled.

The Russians had made great preparations for the drive, nearly every detail of which was reported to the German staff by scouting aeroplanes and Zeppelins. The Germans were enabled to concentrate at the threatened points and met the Russians with a furious fire.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Alexandria.

Scores of Alexandria people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

W. Dawson, blacksmith, 409 N. West St., Alexandria, says: "My back was so weak and sore that I could hardly pick anything off the floor. I couldn't straighten up without taking hold of something and it nearly killed me to get up in the morning. Sharp shooting pains caught me in the small of my back and I thought I would have to give up. Finally I started using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from C. W. Sumer' Drug Store, and the first few doses convinced me that they were the medicine I needed. After finishing one box, my back felt so strong that I could work all day and not feel any the worse for it. Now, I take Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as my kidneys get a little bit out of order, for I know there isn't anything their equal.

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dawson had. Foster Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
